Visited countries

Argentina

Argentina is a country full of contrasts, colors and cultures as wide as its enormous size. Being the second largest country in South America, from north to south, who visits it discover places of undeniable beauty, diverse and welcoming cities, glaciers, jungles, deserts, plains, mountains and so much more!

Argentina is not a place to come only once. Everyone who knows it can assure that there is so much to see, that you just have to return and fall in love all over again.

Passionate for football and tango, the Argentinean is very proud to show its visitors the beauties their country has to offer, so have a taste of mate, enjoy a world class wine, fall for tango, eat the humita and fell delighted by its meat. Argentina has it all!

Regions to discover

Buenos Aires

Discover Buenos Aires! This fascinating city was founded on the shores of the Rio de la Plata in 1570 and was named after the patron saint of sailors for the good wind ("buen aire").

Thanks to its wide avenues, grand tree-lined boulevards, fine colonial architecture, rows of cafes, superb restaurants to eat a tasty steak, shops and energetic nightlife, make it an amazing destination. The downtown area is still true to its distant past, the city was built by French, Italian and Spanish immigrants, which is why it comes as no surprise that travelers walking through the leafy parks and boulevards could be forgiven for thinking they were in Madrid, Paris or Milan.

Because of its great diversity and monumental size, Buenos Aires presents travelers with the spirit of Argentina. The national dance, the tango, is perhaps the best expression of that spirit practiced in dance halls, parks, open plazas, and ballrooms, an intimate dance combining elegance and an exuberant passion.

Bariloche

You arrived at Patagonia, in the Nahuel Huapi National Park, next to the Andes Mountain Range and you are 1680 km from the city of Buenos Aires. In 2012 it was declared a national capital of adventure tourism, and in 2015 the national capital of chocolate. Bariloche is one of the most intense and incredible places in Argentina. You will discover breathtaking views, lakes, streams, meltwater rivers and mountains. You will enjoy the pure air, and the landscapes that are dyed the color of each season.

Between 1876 and 1902 Dr. Francisco P. Moreno, an Argentine expert, traveled extensively throughout the region. In his descriptions highlights that Bariloche "... contains the most interesting meeting of natural beauties that I have observed in Patagonia.

Came to enjoy Bariloche the four seasons of the year. You will find a nature that rewards every visitor with wonderful landscapes, from snowy peaks and coppery lengas, to valleys covered with flowers and crystal clear waters.

Iguazu

On the northeast side of Argentina, the stunning Iguazu falls can be found. A complex of 270 waterfalls divided between Argentina and Brazil.

Declared Natural World Heritage by UNESCO, Iguazu is one of the most visited sites in South America. Right on the heart of the amazonian jungle, its brimming with life and thanks to its warm weather all year round, it makes this experience one of a kind

But eventhough the waterfalls are the highlight of the zone, it is not limited to only them. There are interesting excursions in the Argentinean side as well as in the Brazilian side too; for example, one can visit the Jesuistic ruins, the Yerba fields (herb used to prepare the famous mate) and a visit to the Itaipu Dam.

Take the time to enjoy the amazing beauties of the region, be amazed by the power of the waterfalls, admire the colourfull beauty of a tucan or just relax your eyes in the green ednless jungle, Iguazú offers this and much more!
